History of [REDACTED]

STATSPEC

STATSPEC

Referring to our conversation of yesterday, please find attached the revision of your history of [REDACTED] which I found it necessary to condense. It still seems pretty long, but I think I have already marred it by condensation and I do not want to cut it down further if possible.

There are certain things that I should be obliged if you would check for me. One is the sometimes interchangeable use of [REDACTED]

As an example -

STATSPEC

1. Page 13 - Was the [REDACTED]
2. Spelling of proper names of places - I venture to assume that these are correct, but feel you are in a better position than myself to double check.
3. Pages 30-32 - Technical terms - These statements are beyond my comprehension. I just want to make sure that it would make sense to a technical specialist.
4. Page 26 - Latin American Coverage - Would it be preferable to include this section with the remarks about Latin American Posts on Page 10?
5. Page 37 - Wire Services - You state that "B" wire has continued to function as a "rather specialized wire." I believe this needs clarification as I do not know what it means.
6. Page 42 - Press Agency Broadcasts - I cannot be certain if the present arrangements are working satisfactorily or if something in this delicate situation is likely to break out. Can you clarify this?

It is my intention to include certain of the interesting statistics which you provided and a chart of the present set-up. In closing I venture to say that I thought your report admirable, and that if the other offices would only turn in something comparable to it, my job would be a lot easier.
